Brainwashed is sad to report that the van of Kranky artist Raglani was broken into after the performance at this year's No Fun Fest. Both Joseph Raglani and Steve Hauschildt's gear was stolen—all of the gear they basically own and use. Authorities and used gear shops were notified but nothing has turned up this week.

A donation fund has been set up at Kvist Records and we would also like to post the gear list in case anyone comes across a pile resembling this.
