Brainwaves Festival Fundraising is shifting into higher speed right now as the fest draws closer. We're excited to have sponsors on board and we're now fundraising with two new DVDs from the first fest. Two new DVDs are now available in Brainwashed Commerce : Night 1 part 2 features The Dresden Dolls and Edward Ka-Spel & the Silverman and Day 1 part 1 features Cock ESP, Howard Stelzer, V/Vm, and Goodiepal. We also have some sponsors to announce, so please give them your gratitude.

BFD102: Night 1 part 2: The Dresden Dolls and Edward Ka-Spel & the Silverman (of the Legendary Pink Dots)

Here's a fantastic experience with everybody sharing the same stage. Edward joins the Dresden Dolls for the classic "Missed Me" while Amanda Palmer joins the duo from LPD for "The Lovers." Even Z'EV joins the action with Edward and the Silverman for the end.

BFD103: Day 1 part 1: Cock ESP, Howard Stelzer, V/Vm, and Goodiepal

It's the crew of absurdities from Cock ESP's 5 minute performance of flailing about in a bird and horse costume. You can even hear someone off camera say "now THAT'S rock n' roll" (and of course, it sure is). It's joined with local hero, noise advocate, and Intransitive Recordings patriarch Howard Stelzer; what could have been the final performance of V/Vm; and the much talked about Goodiepal performance.

They're each $15 in Brainwashed Commerce and come with free worldwide shipping - <http://brainwashed.com/commerce.html>

In sad news, we're sorry to announce a couple other Brainwaves acts have had to depart: A Place To Bury Strangers and Baby Dee both have European commitments they can't get out of. Fear not, however, as we're working on some additions to the lineup which will have many people quite excited. Hopefully we will be able to publicize them shortly.

Thanks for your attention and please drop a note to our sponsors thanking them for helping to make the Brainwaves Fest 2008 happen:
