There's a brand new resource for the Legendary Pink Dots, legendarpinkdots.org has launched separately from Brainwashed.com to follow a more interactive path for the fans and band. Over there is a wiki-discography and soon will be a forum, gallery, and various other fan-generatable features. The site here at brainwashed.com/lpd (or cloud-zero.org) has also undergone a much needed facelift and streamlining and will remain the ultimate LPD archive with the most comprehensive discogrphahy, press releases, interviews, and other archives, although we're still in the process of converting it to a new format of our own!
