Brainwashed.com would like to announce we support International Noise Awareness Day . In honor of the event, which passed by us on Wednesday, we would like to make more people Aware of International Noise. We encourage the sharing of music like England's Whitehouse and African Woman Noise - both with a few selections on Susan Lawly, also Germans like Genocide Organ and Sutcliffe Jugend, or Japan's Merzbow or Masonna. So, take a few minutes out of your day and make some people Aware of International Noise: including your friends, neighbors, parents or various people on the streets as you drive by slowly blasting something like "Econobondage" very loud. Thank you.
